Randolph High School
Randolph, Massachusetts

A Senior Publication

A Randolph High School Memory . . .

We present a chronicle of memories, a review of our Senior year at Randolph High School. It is an account of the classes, the activities, and the events which filled our lives. It is a remembrance of the people who will truly live in our minds. It is a record of joys, of achievements, and of disappointments. It is a Randolph High School Memory.

Activities: development of Leadership . . .

Education at R.H.S. is not confined to the classroom. A varied list of activities is open to all students. Leadership is developed; the meaning of responsibility, learned.

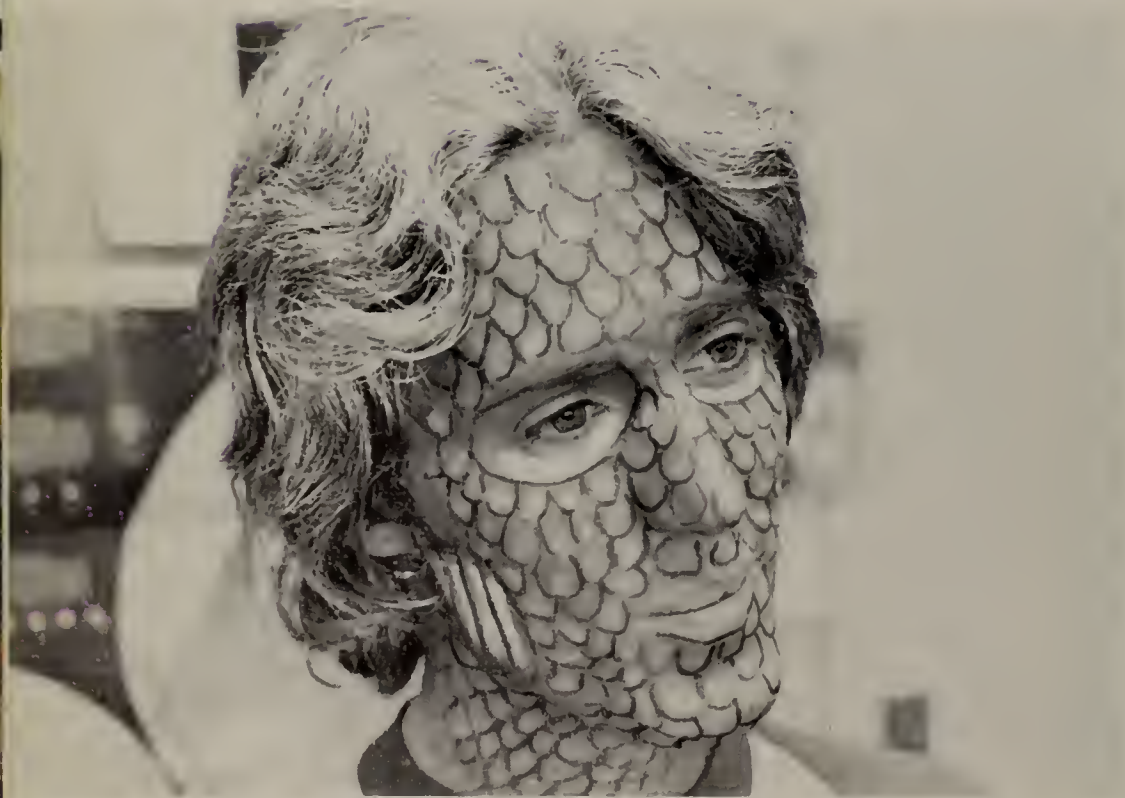

Sportsmanship . . . Working As A Team . . .

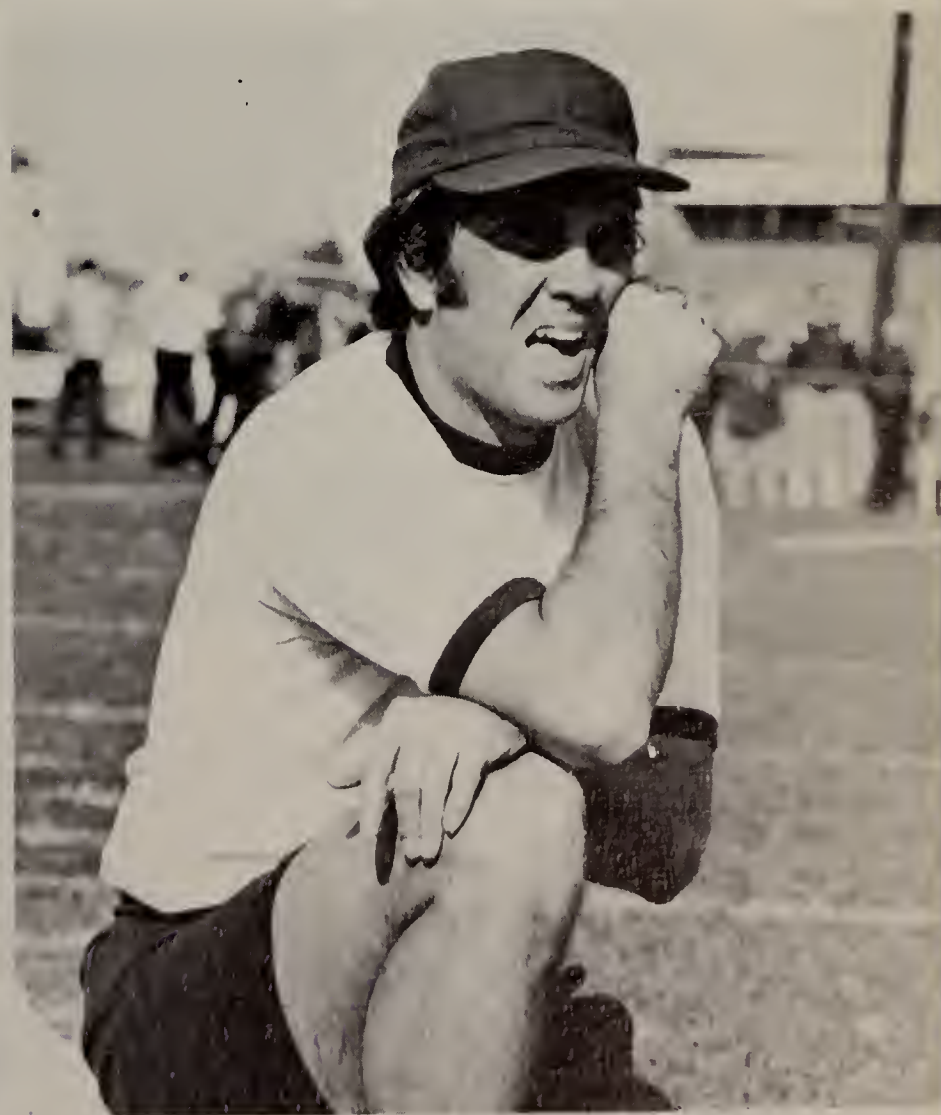

Whether on the field, on the ice, on the court, or on the track, Randolph believes in sportsmanship. Sports provide a giant step towards maturity for all the students. The teams, girl's sports and boy's sports, are a constant pride to R.H.S.

We Are Prepared . . .

Beyond is the future where our goals lie. Our accomplishments depend mostly upon us. But, we are prepared! And, may these few impressions printed in our Oracle, show you why.

RANDOLPH IS DYNAMITE

... preparing for class

... learning to do

... meeting our leaders

... pausing for reflection

WHAT HAPPENED

An Exercise in Student Government

Last February a group of interested students proposed a new dress code for R.H.S. Unlike many other student proposals in the past, this revised dress code won tentative approval from Mr. Topham. In fact, Mr. Topham went so far as to say that he would present this revised dress code to the school committee for consideration if the council would not pay any attention to their proposal or they did not know the correct procedure for eliciting action from the student council. The latter seems to be the case.

In fact, the great majority of the students neither know nor care how the student council functions. After the initial excitement of the May Relegated to memory are the last four years. Soon, even the sound of their footsteps will no longer echo in the halls. The seniors will have graduated.

It was only four short years that these same seniors took places at the bus-stops, little freshmen they were while that year's through what they now experience—held by the school some happy meetings are

THE SPIRIT IS CAPTURED

Do you think there's a generation gap? There certainly isn't one in Randolph at Thanksgiving time. For the third consecutive year, the RHS Seniors demonstrated this by sponsoring a Thanksgiving dinner for Senior Citizens on November 14, in coordination with the Randolph's Teacher's Association. This year the festivities were held in the school cafeteria, with the Senior Class providing and cooking the turkeys and bringing all the fixings. All Senior citizens and

IT'S UP TO YOU

How can a newspaper say something when there is nobody who wants to say it? The only answer to this question is: with difficulty.
It is very easy to say a newspaper is out of step with the event of the day, or to criticize its content as trivial. Then again, it is something else to take the initiative and do something about it. A school newspaper should be composed of copy handed in by the student body. Unfortunately, some newspapers must exist within a sea of indifference and ridicule where the student choose not to submit their thoughts for publication. A newspaper can exist only for a very short period of time in this en

No Curfew - So Now What?

Diane Hyman

The Town Council has decided against the supposed curfew for Randolph. So now what do we do to prevent even the suggestion of another curfew? Before we think of this, however, first let us analyze what led to this action. The reason probably was the vandalism and bomb scares happening at Randolph High School. How do we stop this type of case, how do we stop this type of case, how do we stop this type of case...

the great blizzards of '69 or how we lost april vacation

by Pat Pennie

During the month of February, Randolph and other local towns closely resembled regions in the Arctic Circle. Snow began to fall and tremendous white flakes floated down until one of the greatest blizzards in Massachusetts history had materialized. As a result, school was cancelled and classes were held on only six days in the entire month! Children of all ages rejoiced, and shoveled out their snow-bound homes, while enjoying the extra weeks of vacation and freedom. Scores of parents said fervent prayers that it would stop snowing and their children could return to school. Unfortunately for the children, school soon resumed as usual and the question of April ...

vacation arose. Everyone wondered if it would be eliminated to make up for the lost snow days. Some people felt that the lost time could be made up at the end of the year in June. The school committee met and voted to eliminate the vacation so that the school year could be finished by June 24th instead of June 27th. Even though the decision was a disappointment to everyone, it was actually the only solution to the problem. With the 2 day state waiver, Randolph will still be 2 days short of the required 180. If you look on the bright side, however, going to school in April is a lesser hardship than attending classes in 90-degree weather in July!

Assembly Outlook

In the past, students and teachers have complained about assemblies for different reasons. IMPRESSIONS OF A FIRST-GRADER

by Doug Levine

What goes through a child's mind when he begins his formal education in the wild and wolly first grade? I decided to try to answer this question by conducting an interview with a first-grader living next-door. Knowing her to be the boisterous side, I was surprised to see how she reflexively thought out the questions and intelligently answered them. Q. "Do you like school? Why?" A. "Yes. It's fun. Some-

After explaining what "improve" means, I asked, "If you could, how would you improve your school?" She replied, "I'd tell the teachers not to scream." Since the interview taken such a time (about ten minutes) I became less. Eyeing her she peered inside my mind. I asked for her due. Since I still had a question to ask, it was necessary to give her ...
